

WELCOME TO THE AHRQ ECHO National Nursing Home COVID-19 Action Network

Join us for an introductory session where we'll focus on your SARS-COV-2 challenges and successes. You'll hear from experts about clinical management of COVID-19 and infection control, learn how you and your staff can participate in this innovative network designed to support you and your staff, and learn how to save and impact lives now.

We recognize that it is essential for us to work together to learn from one another and share best practices widely.

Help us create an interactive community of practice to advance improvements in COVID-19 preparedness, safety, and infection control in nursing homes. Supported by the Federal Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) and in collaboration with the Institute for Healthcare Improvement (IHI), Project ECHO is virtually bringing together small groups of peers and experts to learn about the most current best practices to tackle pressing COVID-19 related problems:

- Keeping SARS-COV-2 from entering nursing homes where it has not entered
- Identifying residents and staff who have been infected with SARS-COV-2 early
- Preventing the spread of SARS-COV-2 between staff, residents, and visitors
- Providing safe and appropriate care to residents with mild and asymptomatic cases of SARS-COV-2
- Ensuring staff have the knowledge, skills, and confidence to implement best-practice safety measures to protect residents and themselves
- Reducing social isolation for residents, families, and staff during these difficult times

The Network will work with nursing home staff and administrators from across the country. All participants will be encouraged to share best practices and learn from their peers while benefiting from the guidance of experts on nursing homes and quality improvement.

The Network is open to any nursing home in the country at no cost.

Nursing homes eligible to receive funding from the Provider Relief Fund (PRF) can receive $6,000 in compensation for participating.
